RAIN ON THE ROOF

The sky was dark and weather was humid, clouds were rushing here and there in the sky as if they were worried and anxious. All of a sudden, the worry changed into gentle weep and every single drop of rain was seen as tears falling from the clouds. It seemed that the sky was crying. John thought sitting inside his cottage. Listening to the patter of the rain, he enjoyed tucking up in his cozy pillow on the bed. Patter of every single raindrop gave him pleasure. He was completely mesmerized with the sound of rain echoing in his heart. John was lost into his dreams, relaxing on bed he wove a collection of every event of his life into a dream story. It was so peace-giving for him.

Now his mother entered in his chain of memories as she used to come earlier. She gave blessings to him and his siblings and let them sleep till the dawn. John could feel her fond look in his dream and mourned her loss. The rain made him nostalgic as it connects with different aspects of life. In the same way rain gives pleasure, bliss, and peace to us in some or the other way.

My online learning Experience

My online learning Experience is great. I like the way that teachers taught. They taught in a manner which is completely understable. I They explain us with the help of the Ppt which very attractive and understandable. Teachers our putting there 100% to give us education in a right way. They always clear our doubts. We also have a doubt class. In which we can ask doubt very without any hesitation. We also get revision questions from Practice. In the form of mcq. Which is very helpful for us to clear the concepts. I enjoy online classes very much.

Niyati Mahendru IX-B

Before this pandemic, our children were going to school and doing the activities and a lot of stuff in classes but we were not able to know that what our child is doing in classes, but now during this pandemic we get a newsletter relating what our child is doing in classes all things are mentioned like all the activities, achievements there related to what they did in past few months. So I am very happy that I receive the newsletter from school which mentions all things of what our child did. And it is the great experience that we see our child face in the newsletter.
